Sales Manager Role & Compensation Overview

20 Hours per Week | Management Training & Team Expectations

Company: Steady Hands LLC  Associate: _____

Effective date: _____  Work location: _____

1. Compensation & pay schedule

| Pay component | Amount | When it applies |
|---|---|---|
| Hourly wage | $12/hour | Starting rate for recorded service hours; agreed allocation: 20 hours/week. |
| Personal sales commission | $30 / sale | Each personal qualifying paid sale. |
| Management team commission | $10 / sale | Each qualifying sale by another assigned team member, after written appointment. |
| Personal weekly sales bonus | $100 or $250 | $100 at 5–9 personal sales/week; $250 at 10 or more (not cumulative). |
| Four-week team bonus | $300 or $500 | $300 at 125% of team quota; $500 at 156.25% (not cumulative). |

Payment: Every two weeks on Saturday, according to the company payment calendar. Weekly bonuses are calculated separately each week. The four-week team bonus is paid on the next scheduled payday after evaluation.

Qualifying sale: Customer purchase completed, payment received and verified, and sale attributed in company records. Team commission never reduces another associate’s compensation and does not apply to the manager’s own sales.

2. Purpose & appointment

This outline describes preparation to coordinate, coach, and lead a sales team while continuing personal sales activity. Management training and duties fit within the agreed 20-hour weekly allocation. Training alone does not appoint the associate as manager; the assigned team, compensation, appointment and effective date require written confirmation.

3. Sales management training & responsibilities

• Coordinate associate schedules, availability, daily updates and weekly check-ins.

• Review sales, follow-ups and accurate records; coach team members and identify improvement opportunities.

• Coordinate special requests, closer handoffs and unresolved customer issues.

• Prepare monthly team performance summaries and improvement plans.

• Escalate account access, pricing exceptions, compensation and administrative decisions to Kiara, who retains final approval authority.

4. Personal targets & cumulative team quota

Personal minimum: 4 qualifying paid sales per week (16 over four weeks). Personal sales count toward the team total.

Four-week team quota: (8 × assigned 10-hour team members) + (16 × assigned 20-hour team members), including the manager. Results are measured over the same four-week period. Team assignments and schedule changes require quota recalculation.

Management Compensation & Evaluation

5. Cumulative team quota examples

| Team composition (including manager) | Weekly target | 4-week quota |
|---|---|---|
| Four 10-hour team members | 8 | 32 |
| Two 10-hour + two 20-hour members | 12 | 48 |
| Four 20-hour team members | 16 | 64 |
| 20-hour manager + three 10-hour members | 10 | 40 |

Example: 12 + 9 + 7 + 4 = 32 team sales. Stronger results by one associate may offset lower team results for manager evaluation, but each associate remains accountable under their own agreement.

6. Four-week team performance bonus

| Team achievement against four-week quota (Q) | Manager bonus |
|---|---|
| Below 125% of Q | $0 |
| At least 125%, but below 156.25% of Q | $300 |
| At least 156.25% of Q | $500 |

Thresholds are rounded up to whole sales. For Q = 32, 40 sales earn $300 and 50 sales earn $500. The $500 bonus replaces the $300 bonus; bonuses do not stack.

7. Hourly rate progression & evaluation

$12/hour starting rate. $14/hour may be considered after two consecutive four-week evaluations reaching 125% of team quota. $16/hour may be considered after two consecutive four-week evaluations reaching 156.25%. Higher rates require satisfactory management performance, written approval, and apply prospectively only.

Evaluation considers personal and team sales, coaching, record accuracy, scheduling, communication, follow-through, special requests and supervisory readiness. Repeated shortfalls may result in management-role, future-hours or compensation reevaluation. Earned compensation remains payable.

8. Total pay & acknowledgment

Total manager pay: recorded hours × approved hourly rate + (personal qualifying sales × $30) + personal weekly bonuses + (other assigned team sales × $10) + applicable four-week team bonus.

Management duties and management-specific compensation begin only after written appointment and confirmation of the effective date.

Acknowledgment is recorded electronically through Steady Hands Agreement Actions.

This outline is informational and is not a written appointment to a management role.
